

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

SUBJECT: Minimum allowable distance between chassis components and the retarder

MODELS: Axial (CC) Series

Components in the vicinity of the retarder should be no closer than specified below for typical retarder applications to prevent damage to heat sensitive components such as nylon air-lines, wiring, rubber, etc.

